Current season accomplishments in BOLD

Shonda Cole's senior season in 2006 left an indelible mark in South Carolina's record book. From that season alone, Cole set the program's single-season records for kills, attacks and points, but also the single-game records for all three categories as well. As you can see, Cole also holds each of the top-five single-game records for most of those categories as well.

The group has the most wins (24), kills (2,022), attacks (5,304) and digs (2,429) of any team since the Gamecocks joined the SEC in 1991. On top of that, they recorded the program's first-ever win over a ranked team.

Since 1993, six Gamecock players have turned in 10 triple-doubles, which are listed to the left. Ashley Edlund turned in three during her four-year career, one each during her freshman, junior and senior seasons. Dee Dee Fortman compiled two of the four triple-doubles that included blocks instead of assists, both coming during the 1995 season. Iris Santos turned in the last two, putting them together in consecutive weeks during the 2005 campaign.

 - Records Incomplete. Box scores are only available from 1993 to the present. Limited historical records prior to 1993 were used to aid in the composition of team match records as well. Records may be incomplete or incorrect. Please contact South Carolina media relations with any physical records to reference. The first South Carolina volleyball team was organized in 1967, however, no records are available from that year or the five years thereafter. Violet Meade is believed to have served as the head coach from 1967 to 1973, when the program was still classified as a club sport. The 1974 season is recognized as the first official season as a varsity sport. South Carolina had no conference affiliation until 1983 when it became a member of the Metro Conference. Carolina competed in the South Carolina Association of Intercollegiate Athletics for Women for an unknown period of time prior to joining the Metro. The Gamecocks joined the Southeastern Conference in 1991. The league split into two divisions, East and West, in 1995 but went away from divisions in 2013 and has not held a postseason conference tournament since 2006.*

The Gamecock volleyball program moved into its current facility in January 1996. Completed at a cost of $4.6 million, the Carolina Volleyball Center (CVC) has also served as a practice venue for both the men's and women's basketball programs.

The facility also includes offices for the volleyball and basketball staffs. In October of 2011, the volleyball staff received new offices lining the Park Street side, while the team gained a film room and lounge in the space that was once the Frank McGuire Room. The volleyball team's locker, athletic training and weight rooms are located in the Carolina Coliseum, which is adjacent to the CVC and connected via a tunnel renovated prior to the 2017 season.

Since first competing at the CVC in 1996, the Gamecocks have a 257-141 (.645) record. South Carolina has posted an 132-121 mark in SEC contests at the CVC. The largest crowd in the gym's history came on Aug. 25, 2018, when the team's match against rival Clemson was witnessed by a standing-room-only crowd of 3,458.

During the 2023 season, the team had more games with 2,000 or more fans (5) than in the previous 49 seasons of volleyball combined (3). The Gamecocks finished 44th nationally for total attendance (23,114) and 43rd in average attendance (1,651 per game). The 2023 team surpassed the previous program record of 18,797 total fans and 1,446 average fans per game, both set during the 2018 season.

Dating back to 2014, the Gamecock volleyball program is averaging at least 1,000 fans per game every season.
